Our Last Summer

01 Our Last Summer

01 Our Last Summer

◆ Lyrics

HARRY:

I can still recall

Our last summer

I still see it all

Walks along the Seine

Laughing in the rain

Our last summer

Memories that remain

We made our way along the river

And we sat down in the grass by the Eiffel tower

01 Our Last Summer

◆ Lyrics

SAM:

I was so happy we had met
It was the age of no regret

ALL:

Oh, yes

BILL:

Those crazy years
That was the time of the flower-power

SAM:

But underneath
We had a fear of flying

BILL:

Of growing old

HARRY:

A fear of slowly dying

SAM:

We took a chance
Like we were dancing our last dance

01 Our Last Summer

◆ Lyrics

ALL:

I can still recall
Our last summer
I still see it all

HARRY:

In the tourist jam

SAM:

Round the Notre Dame

ALL:

Our last summer
Walking hand in hand

BILL:

Paris restaurants

ALL:

Our last summer

HARRY:

Morning croissants

01 Our Last Summer

◆ Lyrics

ALL:

Living for the day
Worries far away
Our last summer
We could laugh and play

SOPHIE:

And now you're working in a bank
A family man, a football fan
And your name is Harry

HARRY:

How dull it seems

SOPHIE:

Are you the hero of my dreams?

01 Our Last Summer

01 Our Last Summer

◆ Those crazy years
That was the time of the flower-power

■ flower power:

- Flower power was a slogan used during the late 1960s and early 1970s as a symbol of passive resistance and non-violence ideology. It is rooted in the opposition movement to the Vietnam War. The expression was coined by the American Beat poet Allen Ginsberg in 1965 as a means to transform war protests into peaceful affirmative spectacles. Hippies embraced the symbolism by dressing in clothing with embroidered flowers and vibrant colors, wearing flowers in their hair, and distributing flowers to the public, becoming known as flower children. The term later became generalized as a modern reference to the hippie movement and the so-called counterculture of drugs, psychedelic music, psychedelic art and social permissiveness.
